Draw Me a Story (cont.)

First Hunt

More than anything in the whole world, Little Fox wanted a feather for his headband. However, young warriors did not get one until they had hunted their first four animals.

His mother told him, “Little Fox, if you would bring back the tail of a rabbit, some hair from a buffalo, a feather from an eagle, and a whisker from a wildcat, you surely would be worthy enough to earn a warriors’ feather.” (Draw a diamond for each animal as it is named in an arched shape.)

Little Fox put on his headband; grabbed his bow and arrow (Make an arrow, as shown.); and rode off on his horse, Stardust.

He rode over the mountain and down the other side. (Start a line at the top of the arrow; draw a curve, as shown.) As he came around the bend, he startled the rabbit who quickly jumped into his burrow. (Draw a dot in the center of one diamond.) He passed a buffalo hiding in the tall grass, rode under a tree where an eagle sat in her nest, and passed a wildcat who quietly ducked back into his den. (Continue to put a dot in the center of each diamond as you mention each animal.)

By this time, the sun was high in the sky (Draw a small dot with a slanted line above it directly over the arrow’s points.) and Little Fox was getting very thirsty. He and Stardust rode down to the cool stream to get a drink before going home. (Draw a series of rippled lines to form a rattlesnake’s rattle.)

Sadly, Little Fox started the slow trip home. (Slowly draw a line from the bottom of the rattle back around under the diamonds and up to the bottom of the arrow.) As he approached the village, Stardust was startled and stepped on something small. He began to whinny. Little Fox jumped off to see what it was. To his surprise, Little Fox found that Stardust had caught his first animal. What was it?
